Hauntingly misshapen poem

by Bill Stadick in the June 8, 2016 issue

"And she utterly denyed her guilt of Witchcraft; yet justifyed God for bringing her to that punishment: For she had when a single woman played the harlot."

—John Hale, A Modest Enquiry into the Nature of Witchcraft

this is not easter
wings at least not yet this is what is penned
when you

your mother's

find they broke

father's

mother's

mother's

father's

father's

father's

father's

father's

father's

mother's

neck

and all

you can do now

is break

some

lines

to ask

how did

this fall

further

any flight

in her