

Tuesday digest

April 3, 2012

Subscribe by RSS feed: magazine, blogs, news. See all feeds.

New today from the Century:

- John Buchanan on life after resurrection: "Easter Sunday is glorious. But the most important Sundays come afterward, when we are left—as were Jesus' disciples—with the sense that nothing can ever be the same."
- Marilynne Robinson's lectionary column for Low Sunday (subscription required)
- We have lectionary content for Holy Week, too
- MaryAnn McKibben Dana on mentors that challenge

In the news:

- Richard Land says activists using Trayvon Martin to get out the vote
- What did Jesus do on Holy Saturday
- Commencement wars heat up over Ted Kennedy's widow
- Women wear hijabs in support of slain Iraqi woman