

Thursday digest

April 5, 2012

Subscribe by RSS feed: magazine, blogs, news. See all feeds.

New today from the Century:

- Craig Barnes on his visit to Palestine: "Palestinian parents don't fret about drugs or drunk drivers. They worry that the Israeli soldiers will use their M-16s." (subscription required)
- Amy Frykholm on Occupy and creative expression
- Debra Dean Murphy on why Maundy Thursday is for April Fools
- "Man is without excuse," a poem by Tania Runyan

In the news:

- Richard Land says Obama using Martin case for politics
- Opposition grows to religious freedom nominee
- Catholic group leaves Vanderbilt over membership rules
- Obama hosts Easter prayer breakfast with meditation on suffering