

Friday digest

April 13, 2012

Subscribe by RSS feed: magazine, blogs, news. See all feeds.

New today from the Century:

- Calvin DeWitt beholds the hippo: "What might God have to say about the creatures most people don't think of as lovable?" (subscription required)
- Steve Woolley on where to draw the line for participating in others' worship
- Steve Thorngate on the Obamas' low tax rate
- Oppressed by non-discrimination policies?

In the news:

- Mali hopes for peace after inauguration of civilian president
- Muslim opposition grows to religious freedom nominee
- Religious questions for Pa. voter ID law draw fire
- Group puts Christian spin on Titanic disaster, anniversary
- Catholic bishops issue rallying cry for 'religious freedom'