

Tuesday digest

April 16, 2013

Subscribe by RSS feed: magazine, blogs, news. See all feeds.

New today from the Century:

- Craig Barnes on a church that cared for a family: "Everyone knew the family's problems, but there was never a word of judgment or even pity. The congregation was just being the church." (subscription required)
- Katherine Willis Pershey and Matt Fitzgerald on what else they read for help with preaching
- Robert Rimbo's lectionary column for Sunday, April 28 (subscription required)
- Debra Bendis on Ron Rash
- Steve Thorngate compiles a few links about the bombing in Boston

In the news:

- Tax or fee? Pastors push back against city's 'annual registration fee'
- Archbishop of Canterbury to meet with gay rights activist
- Parliament of the World's Religions survives financial crunch
- Pope Francis orders overhaul of U.S. nuns to continue
- 'Death cafes' normalize a difficult, not morbid, topic