

Tuesday digest

July 9, 2013

Subscribe by RSS feed: magazine, blogs, news. See all feeds.

New today from the Century:

- Jesse James DeConto on Durham's fight over panhandlers' rights: "A new law in Durham makes standing in the highway median illegal. One night in March, six pastors broke the law by panhandling there." (subscription required)
- Jayson Casper on making sense of the situation in Egypt
- Steve Thorngate on a particularly narrow framing of the worship wars
- Ben Dueholm's lectionary column for Sunday, July 21 (subscription required)

In the news:

- Church of England to draft new legislation on women bishops