

Provocative worship

by Martin E. Marty in the October 14, 1998 issue

Fewer people should be dozing off during worship, if items I'm seeing in church bulletins are any indication. For example, a United Methodist Church proclaims that it has "a longstanding tradition of whorshipful music." Another bulletin announces that "the ministers and choir will be disrobed for the morning service."

- At a White Plains wedding, Ms. X was identified as "Old Testament Palm Reader." Home address: Endor?
- "Holy Trinity, one God, in You we lie and move and have our being." Telling it like it is at confession time.
- "We praise you, God of Wisdom, for publishers and printers and all who enabled the Bible to be always at hand." Is that what the Gideons are putting in hotel drawers?
- "We call on thy name and recant thy wondrous deeds." Try that one on Martin Luther, who cannot, will not.
- "For the earth will be full of the knowledge of the Lord as the wafers cover sea." Because of observing communion frequently.
- "Special music, verse one: 'I am the vine, you are the branches.'" Organized crime in the sanctuary.
- Hymn: "In wilderness and desert our tribe shall make its home." Was it "rocky road" ice cream?
- "Offertory Solo: It Is Enough." That's rarely the case.
- "Allen Pote (Youth Choir) is among the most prominent composers, conductors and clinicians. . . ." Must be a postmodernist commingler.
- "Open now the crystal fountain, whence the healing steam doth flow." A Hot Springs church?

- "My Gold, I Love Thee." The truth will out.
- "The Offertory: 'Hydrofil' by Paul Manz." Do the Welsh put water in the gas?
- "And we read how immortality breaks your heart and robs us of joy in our lives."
- "OUR QUILT HAS BEEN TAKEN AWAY." Baby, it's cold inside.
- "How Lovely Are Thy Swellings Fair." A pregnant pause ensued.
- "The choir will resent a cantata on Palm Sunday." Fans of contemporary worship?
