

Monday digest

April 30, 2012

Subscribe by RSS feed: magazine, blogs, news. See all feeds.

New today from the Century:

- Amy Frykholm interviews Michelle Alexander on racism and incarceration:
"The U.S has created a vast legal system for racial and social control, unprecedented in world history. Yet we claim to be colorblind."
(subscription required)
- Bromleigh McCleneghan on structure and power in the United Methodist Church
- Brian Bantum blogs the lectionary
- John Petrakis reviews The Deep Blue Sea (subscription required)

In the news:

- Conservatives on the hunt for 'NASCAR Christians'
- Paul Ryan's not-very-Catholic Catholic budget
- Utah storehouse at top of Mormon food chain
- China promotes Buddhist protege
- Opposition to marriage lower in 2012 campaign