

Tuesday digest

May 15, 2012

Subscribe by RSS feed: magazine, blogs, news. See all feeds.

New today from the Century:

- An interview with Will Willimon, who will soon return to teaching: "I find little support for democracy in scripture. Bishops have power to send because all ministry in Jesus' name is 'sent.'" (subscription required)
- Katherine Willis Pershey's lectionary column for next Sunday (subscription required) and her blog notes for this one
- John Buchanan on baseball: "When I was ten, baseball became the organizing principle of my life. The game taught me that success is rare and precious." (subscription required)
- Steve Thorngate collects some insightful links on marriage equality

In the news:

- Obama campaign taps young adviser, Michael Wear, for faith outreach
- Polls: Most Americans call gay relationships "moral" and are not swayed by Obama's same-sex marriage support
- Richard Mouw, evangelical leader, says engaging Mormonism isn't just about being nice
- Black churches conflicted on Obama's gay marriage decision