

Thursday digest

August 16, 2012

Subscribe by RSS feed: magazine, blogs, news. See all feeds.

New today from the Century:

- Bruce Rittenhouse on how to create jobs: "Unemployment is a human crisis. Yet the Obama administration, Congress and the Fed mostly act like it's not their problem." (subscription required)
- Bromleigh McCleneghan reviews Tom Perrotta's Rapture novel (subscription required)
- Steve Thorngate on Paul Ryan's congressional district
- Health care and the Cheesecake Factory
- A video of yesterday's Dream Relief Workshop in Chicago

In the news:

- Amish-Mennonite pastor convicted of abetting kidnapping
- N.Y. Cardinal Timothy Dolan defends Obama invitation to Al Smith Dinner
- Poll: Religious groups divided on gun control, but united against guns in churches
- Paul Ryan, Joe Biden: A tale of two Catholics
- Motive unknown in shooting at Family Research Council headquarters