

Thursday digest

October 11, 2012

Subscribe by RSS feed: magazine, blogs, news. See all feeds.

New today from the Century:

- Melissa Goss on the fight against human trafficking: "A man buys a lottery ticket at a small store in Cambodia. Ten years ago, he could have bought a human being there." (subscription required)
- Walter Brueggemann reviews Jon Levenson (subscription required)
- Steve Thorngate on the Nones' support for Democrats
- Daniel Schultz (aka pastordan) on a clergy fashion show
- Lois Huey-Heck on artwork by Steve Turner (subscription required)