

Monday digest

November 5, 2012

Subscribe by RSS feed: magazine, blogs, news. See all feeds.

New today from the Century:

- Amy Frykholm interviews policy advocate Peter Edelman: "I don't think we have laid the ground for a national conversation on poverty. People just don't know the facts." (subscription required)
- Carol Howard Merritt on young PC\(USA\) clergy and the Board of Pensions
- Heidi Neumark blogs the lectionary
- Lois Huey-Heck on art by Margie Davidson (subscription required)

In the news:

- S.C. Episcopalians say split goes beyond gay debate
- Is it ethical to defy evacuation orders?
- Report: anti-Semitic incidents decline in the U.S.