

Friday digest

April 12, 2013

Subscribe by RSS feed: magazine, blogs, news. See all feeds.

New today from the Century:

- Gilbert Meilaender on immortality: "Desirable as living forever may sound, it invites us to forget another kind of desire that we creatures should not quench." (subscription required)
- Carol Howard Merritt on Impact 365
- Steve Thorngate on getting web alerts for the phrase "Christian century"
- A brief review of James Howell
- "Flamboyance," a poem by D. S. Martin

In the news:

- Immigration reform becomes personal for evangelicals
- Gay Catholic delivers 18,000 signatures to bishop asking to be reinstated
- At makeshift National Mall graveyard, clergy demand gun control
- Obama awards Catholic army chaplain Medal of Honor