

Take the Century's brief reader survey, enter to win a free book

May 29, 2013

Our slogan here at the Century is "Thinking Critically. Living Faithfully." We believe wholeheartedly in a thoughtful approach to the issues religious communities face. To help us reflect on how best to carry out that mission, we regularly seek feedback from a variety of voices. Now it's your turn.

This is an opportunity to tell us about who you are, what you like about the Century, what needs more emphasis and what can be improved. By completing this short, anonymous survey, you will be helping us live more faithfully into our commitment.

Also, you can enter your contact information at the end of the survey for a chance to win a FREE copy of How My Mind Has Changed: Essays from the Christian Century.
