Wednesday digest

June 12, 2013

Subscribe by RSS feed: magazine, blogs, news. See all feeds.

New today from the Century:

- Amy Frykholm on churches and the North Dakota oil boom: "For some churches in North Dakota, the oil boom is a threat. For others it's an opportunity to relate to new neighbors."
- Daniel Schultz on Christians and the PRISM surveillance program: "Is the NSA electronic surveillance story about human rights? Is it about the common good, or loving the neighbor?"
- Margaret Blair Young on Mormonism and race 35 years after the end of the priesthood restriction
- John Buchanan on the church he served and the baseball team he loved (subscription required)