Friday digest

July 19, 2013

Subscribe by RSS feed: magazine, blogs, news. See all feeds.

New today from the Century:

- John Buchanan on words for grieving: "It has been a season of losses. I've been reminded of the importance of knowing how to respond, and how not to." (subscription required)
- Why Carol Howard Merritt wishes Hosea and Philemon weren't in the lectionary
- Steve Thorngate on putting "illegals" on "probation"

In the news: "Report: Americans hold different views of what 'religious' means