

Monday digest

September 9, 2013

Subscribe by RSS feed: magazine, blogs, news. See all feeds.

New today from the Century:

- The editors on Islam and democracy: "The prospects for genuine democracy in Egypt are more remote than ever. But there are other models of Islamic politics in the region."
- Harold Bush reviews Dan Brown: "I find Dan Brown's use of the word fact charming. Fact: I'm powerless to say precisely what he means by it."
(subscription required)
- Shauna Hannan blogs the lectionary
- Carol Howard Merritt defends Occupy
- Merritt talks zombies with Kelly Baker