

A morning with a master preacher

I'm looking forward to October 4, when the Century will welcome Cleophus J. LaRue to lead a workshop here in Chicago. It'll be at the new Gratz Center at Fourth Presbyterian Church. LaRue's topic is "Preaching Faithfully to the Faithless."

LaRue—a Texan, a Baptist minister and a professor at Princeton Theological Seminary—is known not only for his preaching but also for his teaching on preaching. Check out his most recent book, or hear him preach.

And if you can be in Chicago next month, join us for a rich, encouraging morning with a master preacher. (And don't forget to hear Craig Barnes on Thursday evening.)
