

Tuesday digest

September 24, 2013

Subscribe by RSS feed: magazine, blogs, news. See all feeds.

New today from the Century:

- Phil Jenkins on Christendom in Georgia: "Most of what westerners know about the Caucasus region is negative. But the South Caucasus has a different history, and Christianity plays a central role." (subscription required)
- Kendra Weddle Irons on teaching religion in a classroom full of Saudis
- Steve Thorngate on the death of adjunct professor Margaret Mary Votjko
- Cornelius Plantinga's lectionary column for Sunday, October 6 (subscription required)
- Lou Carlozo briefly reviews Steven Curtis Chapman