Wednesday digest

October 23, 2013

Subscribe by RSS feed: magazine, blogs, news. See all feeds.

New today from the Century:

- Will Willimon reviews Tom Long and Tom Lynch: "The two best writers on American ways of death, burial and grieving have given us our best book on funerals." (subscription required)
- Ray Haberski on the Serenity Prayer and the politics of stupidity
- Steve Thorngate on the Chicago PD's practice of destroying confiscated guns
- "Travel light," a poem by Jean Janzen

In the news:

- Baptism rates slide despite high-profile boosts
- o Bishop's suspension a symptom of German Catholic Church's wealth
- o Brunei to implement Shariah penal code, including stoning, caning