

Wednesday digest

November 20, 2013

Subscribe by RSS feed: magazine, blogs, news. See all feeds.

New today from the Century:

- Ralph Wood considers a pile of books on C. S. Lewis: "'You'll never get to the bottom' of Lewis, said Tolkien. The books published for the 50th anniversary of Lewis's death reveal the truth of this statement." (subscription required)
- Mark Edwards asks what happened to public diplomacy
- Rebecca Kirkpatrick teaches her nine-year-old about sin
- Steve Thorngate briefly reviews Parov Stelar

In the news:

- Pastor faces credentials loss over gay weddings