

Monday digest

December 2, 2013

Subscribe by RSS feed: magazine, blogs, news. See all feeds.

New today from the Century:

- The editors on governmental prayer and Greece v. Galloway: "A truly nonsectarian prayer would be so vague as to hardly constitute prayer. Besides, government can't assume the task of scrutinizing prayers."
- Carol Howard Merritt on football and violence
- John Potter's year-end picks in popular music
- Steve Thorngate's year-end picks in TV comedy
- Hardy Kim blogs the lectionary