

Preparing for the move

by Nathaniel Lee Hansen in the October 7, 2020 issue

Their house has fewer possessions than when my wife and I helped them move in three years ago.

Now we are helping them ready their home to not be theirs.

I clean doors with baby wipes,
My wife and friends touch spots with paint.

The doors whitened, I stretch on familiar wooden floor, wipe down dusty baseboards.

World Series Game 7 is on,
a welcome distraction from grief, a bat cracking, the breaking of my heart.
