Lutheran pastor P. Solomon Raj works with linocuts, woodblock prints, and batik to convey a Christianity that speaks amid the diversity of Indian culture. In Feeding of Judas, Raj, director of St. Luke's Lalitkala Ashram in Vijayawada, Andhra Pradesh, India, reconsiders a scene in which Jesus reaches out to a man who lives on the margins of society. Writer David Zersen calls Raj's work "a new homiletic to engage the seeker."
