

Citizens Bank divests from ICE detention centers following faith-led campaign

by Kayla Berkey

August 7, 2026

Members of De-ICE Citizens Bank participate in a protest in March. (Facebook)

Citizens Bank has announced it will stop financing two private prison companies following months of pressure led by faith-based groups and activists.

The decision comes in the midst of a coordinated campaign of public pressure combined with regular acts of withdrawing funds from the bank, led by the Greater Boston Interfaith Organization, Greater Cleveland Congregations, and the De-ICE Citizens Bank coalition.

Read the full story here.